Hungarian Jewel: Lake Balaton & Balatonfüred

On this live virtual tour, we will visit the jewel of Hungarian nature, namely Lake Balaton. Walk along it shores at the historic spa town of Balatonfüred.

It is difficult to describe what Lake Balaton means to Hungarians. It is their place of rest, their place of escape, their place of fun. For a country that lost two thirds of its territory after World War I, and so becoming landlocked, its significance is more than just water and sky. Lake Balaton also played a crucial role in the cold war; a meeting place for families and spies from both sides of the Iron curtain.

The spa town of Balatonfüred has for over 200 years been a resort connected with health and convalescence.
