In order to maximize availability and contact with Neal Price, Prudy asked Kristen to take over the role of 'point of contact' with Neal for the committee; Prudy is not often near a phone or email during business hours. Kristen agreed to do so, while maintaining separation from Sheriff's Meadow Foundation's Black Brook project in Aquinnah, all in favor.

Committee members discussed how a project to remove some of the invasive grey willow at Mill Pond might be undertaken. Prudy will ask Maria McFarland, conservation commission administrator, to get on their next available agenda to have a preliminary discussion with board members to get their input about how/whether such a project would undergo review and be granted a permit.
